MONDAY DECEMBER 12.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

June 19, 1888.

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF THE UNITED STATES: In accordance with usage and obedient to the instructions of the national republican convention of 1884, a national convention of delegated representatives of the republican party will be held at the city of Chicago, Ill., on Tuesday, the 19th day of June, 1888, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for President and Vice President to be supported at the next national election, and for the transaction of such other business as may be there presented.

Republican electors in the several states, and voters without regard to past political affiliation, difference or action who believe in the American principle of a protective tariff for the defense and development of home industries and the elevation of home labor; who would reduce the national taxes and prevent the accumulation of the surplus in the treasury in harmony with this principle; who are opposed to the attempt now more openly avowed than ever before to establish a policy which would strike down American labor to the level of the under-paid and oppressed workers of foreign lands; who favor a system of naval and coast defenses which will enable the United States to conduct its international negotiations with self respect; who gratefully cherish the defenders of the country; who condemn and resent the continued and unjust exclusion of rapidly growing territories, which have an indisputable title to admission into the sisterhood of states; who are in favor of free schools and popular education, a free and honest ballot and a fair count, the protection of every citizen of the United States in his legal rights at home and abroad, a foreign policy that shall extend our trade and commerce to every land and clime, and shall properly support the dignity of the nation and the promotion of friendly and harmonious relations and intercourse between all the states, are cordially invited to unite under this call in the formation of a national ticket.

Each state will be entitled to four delegates at large, and for each representative at large two delegates, and each congressional district each territory and the District of Columbia to two delegates.

The delegates-at-large shall be chosen by popular state conventions, called in not less than twenty days' published notice and not less than thirty days before the meeting of the national convention. The congressional district delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as the nomination of a member of congress is made in said districts. The territorial delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as the nomination of delegates in congress is made. The delegates from the District of Columbia shall be chosen at a convention constituted of members elected in the primary district assemblies held under the call and direction of the republican central committee of said district. An alternate delegate for each delegate in the national convention to act in case of the absence of the delegate, shall be elected in the same manner and at the same time as the delegate is elected.

All notices of contests must be filed with the national committee in writing, accompanied by printed statements of the grounds of contests which shall be made public. Preference in the order of hearing and determining contests will be given by the convention in accordance with the dates of filing of such notices and statements with the national committee.

SAMUEL FESSENDEN, Secretary.
Washington, Dec. 9, 1887.

In the make-up of the senate committees, Mr. Sawyer is chairman of the committee on postoffices and postroads, and Mr. Spooner is chairman of the committee on claims.

The Great Eastern, which originally cost $2,500,000, has again been sold at auction at Liverpool for $100,000. The democratic party will lose about as much on Mr. Cleveland's free trade message as the original owners have done on the Great Eastern.

There is one democratic newspaper which does not have much faith either in democratic congress or in the influence of Mr. Cleveland's British free trade message, and that paper is the Cincinnati inquirer, and it makes this statement:

A very pertinent remark from the Indianapolis Journal: Mr. Blaine commenting on Grover Cleveland's message is like a modern war steamer, thoroughly armed and equipped with perfect motive power and the most deadly armament, steaming around the old-fashioned, lumbering wooden hulk, and pouring deadly broadsides into it from every point of the compass.

The young men's republican club, of Madison, has unanimously adopted a resolution favoring Governor Rusk for president. The endorsement is a splendid one, and does the republican club a great honor. There is no man in this country save Blaine, whose name will come before the national convention, in connection with the office of president who is better known than Governor Rusk His name is a power among the people, and the Wisconsin delegation will unanimously cast its vote for him.

The ways of the prohibition leaders are sometimes past finding out. In New York, for instance, the republicans in the legislature were in favor of submitting the prohibition amendment to a popular vote, and the democrats were against it, the vote standing thus:

Affirmative	Republicans	55
	Democrats	8
Negative	Republicans	18
	Democrats	42

The democrats declared that it was not a wise thing to submit the question. The republicans said it was. The prohibition leaders said "we must kill the republican party," and in accordance with that saying, they voted to help the democrats and to defeat the republicans. How beautifully consistent are third party leaders!

The Chicago News, which has been fighting the republican party right along, makes this suggestion in regard to Secretary Lamar: Before Mr. L. Q. C. Lamar is confirmed he should be summoned to the bar of the senate and asked if he still thinks Abraham Lincoln "the buffoon who disgraced the seat once occupied by Washington and Madison," as he did at Richmond, June 1, 1861. Also whether he thinks that the south was constitutionally whipped back into the union or not. And also whether in his opinion under similar circumstances it would be constitutional for the United States to prevent Rhode Island from seceding should it take the treasonable notion into its seven-by-nine head. When Mr. Lamar has answered these questions his confirmation might be considered, but not till then.

Mr. George W. Childs who owns the Philadelphia Ledger, and who has been given to dealing out much praise to Mr. Cleveland for the past two years, is sadly disappointed in regard to the free trade message. It says: "The Ledger speaks of a very independent class of citizens who are earnest, unselfish admirers of the president—true friends and valuable—who looked to him as a chief executive that was doing his duty to the best of his ability for the welfare of the country, who had hitherto shown great good sense, sound judgment and a resolute purpose to be as independent and true as a president elected on party lines could be. These are very greatly surprised, disappointed and grieved by the message. They cannot understand how such a man could have made such a capital mistake as to fall in with a school of doctrinaires, to the detriment of an established American policy, under the operations of which the United States of America have prospered as no other people or country ever did."

A republican club has been organized in Milwaukee with a membership of 500 to start with. The names of the officers are, Frank L. Gilson, president, vice presidents, A. L. Worden, C. A. Chapin, and W. E. Gardner; recording secretary H. M. Stark; corresponding secretary J. P. Schubert; treasurer, A. W. Eich; executive committee, W. A. Newell, Julius Goldschmidt, John Maushott, W. E. McElray, H. Baumgartner, John Toohey. Mr. Gilson was speaker of the assembly in 1882. A telegraph dispatch says that when the club was organized and Gilson made a little speech, which he can do with force and effect, he referred to the possibility of Blaine being a presidential candidate next year the Blaine men went fairly wild. They made a noise that suggested their number might be twice as large as it really was. Gilson isn't such a warm Blaine man himself, but he knew how to give his little talk the ecist needed.

Morgan L. Martin, of Green Bay, one of the oldest settlers of this state, died at his home on Saturday. His life has been an eventful and a varied one. He was born in Martinsburg, Lewis county New York, in 1805; graduated at Hamilton college in 1824; moved to Detroit in 1827, where he was admitted to the bar, and removed to Green Bay in 1827, where he has since resided. In 1833 he visited the mouth of Milwaukee river, and obtained of Solomon Juneau an undivided half of his claim. He constructed the first plat of Milwaukee, and put it on record in 1835. He may be said to be founder of the city of Milwaukee. He was identified with the Fox river improvement scheme, by which he lost considerable money. In 1831 he served in the Michigan legislature, and when Wisconsin became a separate territory, he was identified with her early history. Besides serving in her territorial legislature, and representing her in congress, he was president of the state constitutional convention in 1847. In 1861 he entered the army as paymaster, and resigned in 1862. From 1843 to 1847 he served various terms in the state legislature, at which latter date he retired from politics and accepted a county judgeship, which he held up to the time of his death. He was one of the four historical men of Wisconsin.

"As pinces the tiger on his foes,
Hemmed in by hunters, spears and bows,
And, ere he bounds upon the ring,
Selects the object of his spring."

Dr. Parker Sails for Home.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Rev. Dr. Parker, of London, sailed for home Saturday on the Etruria, accompanied by his wife. A number of prominent Brooklyn people connected with Plymouth Church were on the dock to wish him bon voyage. Major Pond, Dr. Parker's manager, said to a reporter that the doctor had been one of the best-paying lecturers he had ever brought to this country. Major Pond also said that Dr. Parker leaves the United States $5,500 richer than when he came.

A Safe-Robber Captured.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 12.—Harry Johnson, who robbed the safe of the treasurer of Reynolds County, Mo., of $20,000, November 2, has been arrested in Hemphill County, Tex. Twenty-five hundred dollars were recovered.

Plymouth's Pulpit Declined.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 12.—Rev. Charles Berry has declined the call to Plymouth Church, alleging as his reason for so doing the opportunity that is opened to him of doing national work in England.

THE BANK WRECKER.

E. L. Harper, the Bank Wrecker, is Found Guilty as Charged.

And Sentenced to Ten Years' Imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

[Special to the Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Dec. 12—E. L. Harper, the Fidelity Bank wrecker, was found guilty this morning, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The decision of the court seemed to affect the defendant greatly. His composure which has been so marked throughout the trial was badly shaken.

NO HOPE FOR HARPER.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 12.—The case of E. L. Harper is now with the jury and no verdict will be returned until this morning. When court opened Saturday every one felt that it was the last day of the trial. The room was crowded and hundreds stood in the corridors outside the court. Harper came in with his wife and little son. A few witnesses were called for the defense, but they gave no testimony of interest except to clinch the facts against the prisoner. This sort of evidence was growing monotonous to the defendant's attorneys, who were asking questions under protest. They declared that all the points the Government lacked to complete their case had been obtained through Harper's own statement on the witness stand.

At half-past 10 o'clock the prisoner and his counsel retired for consultation. Major Blackburn told his client that he would proceed no further with the case, and that it must be submitted without argument. Harper reluctantly consented, and the two lawyers and the defendant returned to the court-room. It was announced that the defense rested. The prosecution called two witnesses in rebuttal to contradict some of Harper's statements about the bank. Then both sides stated to court that the case was submitted without argument. Judge Jackson's charge to the jury, followed by his review of the testimony, consumed from 11 to almost 1 o'clock. It was a clear and logical exposition of the law governing such cases. The judge, in summing up the testimony, was very severe on Harper. Two or three times he said if the jury believed the defendant's own testimony he was guilty of criminal acts. It was a scathing rebuke of Harper's course, and was paramount to instructions to bring in a verdict of guilty on some of the counts of the indictment. The closing words were as follows:

"Gentlemen, there is the amount of $355,381.25 for which the checks were exhibited here, that unlawfully went out through the medium of the Fidelity to the credit of Irwin, Green & Co. The amount to the credit of C. J. Kershaw was $278,000; same source to Hoyt, $50,000; Irwin & Green, $70,000 on the false credit of $350,000, and this on the transactions in which the defendant admits he was interested with Mr. Hopkins. He took that unlawfully, giving himself credit. There are outstanding liabilities on letters of credit to Irwin & Green still $215,000, and amounts to other parties."

"In regard to the $1,000,000 collateral sent to the Chemical National Bank the defendant was drawing $400,000 for unlawful and criminal purposes. It is admitted that the defendant made heroic efforts to save the bank. But that has no relevancy to the wrong done. A man scuttles a ship and then makes heroic efforts to save the ship. That does not preclude the criminality of the act. I may fire upon you and give you a dangerous wound; I may do all in my power to stop the flow of blood, but there is the criminality of the act and the offense against the law."

There seems to be no doubt of Harper's conviction. He will be sentenced immediately after the verdict is rendered. He will probably get ten years in the penitentiary. Shortly after Harper had been returned to jail at the close of court proceedings Saturday he was seen and asked if he had any thing to say. The prisoner replied:

"There is not much I can say at present. You can say that the president and the directors of the bank and the largest stockholders unloaded stock for which I paid between $700,000 and $800,000 between January 1, 1887, and June 20, 1887. Of this sum $200,000 went to the bank for new stock paid for May 6. Then in reference to Harry Watters, the book-keeper, he, you know, who testified against me on the stand. Do you know that when his testimony was given before the grand jury that body voted unanimously to indict him, but his indictment was withheld to make him testify against me. Do you know that fellow proposed to me to run away and rob the bank of all convertible securities and cash. I replied in the most positive terms that I had never taken a dollar of the bank's money and would die before doing so.

"My bank stock was worth $1,500,000 the day before the bank failed. If the bank examiner had stayed away I don't believe we would have failed, as I was getting resources together. We were offered assistance, and those who had assisted us would have continued to stand by us to save themselves. I would have succeeded had not the bank examiner played the bull in the china-shop. I could implicate a great many so-called honest citizens if I so desired. I may yet be tempted to take the stand as a Government witness."

Free Fight with Lynchers.

CONCORDIA, Kan., Dec. 12.—Yesterday morning about 2 o'clock an armed mob surrounded the jail at Leoti, in Wichita County, and made a desperate attempt to lynch Thomas Allen, who is imprisoned on the charge of having been implicated in the killing of Coulter and Ransom February 27 last. John H. Edwards, sheriff of the county, with Dick Wade, his under-sheriff, after a severe fight with the mob succeeded in driving the besiegers away, after severely wounding several of them.

A Receiver Asked For.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 12.—In the superior court Saturday the application of the Insurance Commissioner to put the Continental Life Insurance Company into the hands of a receiver was set down for hearing December 22. The statement of the commissioner shows liabilities of $2,000,000, and assets of $1,200,000, as its condition January 1 last. He claims the deficit is now much larger.

Must Hang.

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 12.—Governor Larrabee has declined to interfere in the case of Chester Bellows, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Alice Waterman at Charles City. The execution will consequently take place on Friday, December 16. The sheriff of Floyd County has obtained the rope prepared for the execution of Lingg, the Chicago Anarchist, and will use it in hanging Bellows.

Henry George Declines.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Henry George has definitely decided not to be a candidate for the Presidency next year, and not to put the Labor party into the campaign. In an interview he declared that he was not in favor of going into a National campaign for a number of causes, but particularly because of the expense of a National campaign. He is in favor of any party who will declare in favor of free trade.

Garrett's Successor.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 12.—The directors of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad met Saturday. Mr. Samuel Spencer was elected president, and his salary, it is understood, has been fixed at $25,000 per annum. The salary of the late president, Robert Garrett, was $2,000.

LOSSES ON THE LAKE.

Disasters on the Inland Seas During the Past Season—Seventy-Three Vessels and Their Cargoes Totally Destroyed—A Financial Loss of $2,500,000—Lives Lost, 204.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—During the season of lake navigation, now at an end, 204 lives have been lost on the inland seas and not less than $2,500,000 worth of property has been destroyed. Seventy-three vessels, aggregating 20,687 registered tons, have ceased to exist, as compared with fifty-seven vessels and 17,070 tons in 1886. The total losses comprise sixteen steamers, forty-three schooners, six tow barges, and eight tugboats, representing a financial loss of $792,000 on hulls, and $108,400 on cargoes. But despite this large total destruction of vessel property the tonnage that has passed out of existence is much less than one-half of the aggregate new tonnage that has been built at the lake ship-yards this year and put in commission. Since the opening of navigation last spring, forty-seven steamers, four tow barges, and two tugboats, aggregating 52,234 tons, and costing $5,523,000, have been launched and completed, and there are now on the stocks, in various stages of construction, an almost equal amount of new tonnage. Consequently, the 20,687 tons of floating property that has been blotted out by storms this year will, by next spring, be replaced by upward of 100,000 tons, and, as most of the new tonnage is steam, while most of the old was sail, there will be a much larger gain in tonnage than the figures actually represent, for one ton propelled by steam is fully equal to three tons that depend entirely upon the action of the wind for propelling power. The losses show that the earnings and a big slice of the reserve funds of nearly every company engaged in lake underwriting have been eaten up.

The following is a table of the total losses and their causes on the five great lakes during the year:

HOW LOST.	Michigan	Erie	Huron	Superior	Ontario	Total Loss.
Burned	5	1	..	1	..	$ 99,000
Sunk	2	5	..	..	1	111,000
Ashore	15	4	1	1	2	305,000
Foundered	3	6	..	1	..	217,500
Collision	2	..	..	..	..	3,500
Total	29	14	1	3	4	$734,500

In addition to the above, two vessels went ashore in the Straits and in the Georgian Bay and one vessel was burned at Chatham, Ont., causing an addition to the above total of $66,000.

JUDGE MARTIN DEAD.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Dec. 12.—Judge Morgan L. Martin died in this city at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon of a paralytic stroke.

[Judge Martin was born March 31, 1805, at Martinsburg, N. Y., graduated at Hamilton College in 1824, and admitted to the bar in 1827 in Detroit. He moved to Green Bay the same year, and in 1833 visited Milwaukee and obtained, with Solomon Juneau, one-half of his claim, on which the east half of Milwaukee now stands. He was really the founder of Milwaukee, and realized greatly on the sale of his lands. Martin lost the money, however, in the Fox river improvement enterprise in 1858. In public life he served in 1831 in the Territorial Legislature of Michigan. When Wisconsin was divided he served in its Territorial Legislature up to 1846. He was president of the State Constitutional convention and was in the State Legislature up to 1874. He entered the army in 1861 as paymaster and served until 1865, when he resigned. In 1874 he withdrew from politics and accepted the county judgeship, which position he held up to the time of his death.]

THE SAND-LOT PREACHER GONE.

Death of Rev. James Kalloch, San Francisco's Notorious Ex-Mayor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—James Kalloch, the notorious ex-mayor of San Francisco, died Friday at New Whitcom, W. T., of diabetes. During the sand-lot riots, in which Denis Kearney took part, Kalloch sided with the rioters. He was a Baptist preacher at the time.

Kalloch was elected mayor of San Francisco on the working-men's ticket in 1879. During the campaign he was shot by Charles De Young, at that time editor of the Chronicle, the dispute growing out of a number of personal attacks by both parties. The Chronicle printed the details of Kalloch's life in Boston and Kansas, and Kalloch was equally bitter in his attacks on the De Youngs, assaulting their mother in the most language. In April, 1880, Kalloch's son went to the Chronicle office and shot De Young dead, and was afterwards acquitted of the charge of murder. At the close of his term as mayor Kalloch removed to Washington Territory, where he had since resided.

THE ANARCHISTS.

Entertainments Held in Chicago for the Benefit of the Families of the Executed and Imprisoned "Reds."

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—The three entertainments for the benefit of the families of the executed Anarchists were held yesterday in accordance with the programme previously published. The people who attended them were plentifully supplied with beer. The largest entertainment was at Twelfth Street Turner Hall, where speeches were made by Captain Black and John Gloy. The latter spoke in German, and although he indulged in considerable socialistic rant, he took pains to advise his hearers to give up the idea of helping their case along by the use of dynamite, and to caution them that the time had come for them to retrace their steps.

HURON, D. T., Dec. 12.—A report reached here yesterday that the farm-house of Michael Harris, fourteen miles from Wessington, burned Saturday night, and that the entire family of nine persons was burned to death. Another report says that Mrs. Harris and six of her seven children perished, and that Mr. Harris and the oldest child, a daughter, escaped severely burned. No details reached here at a late hour.

COLD LEAD FOR FERRY.

France's Ex-Premier a Target for an Assassin's Bullet.

THREE SHOTS FIRED AT HIM.

Two Take Effect, Though It Is Not Thought Serious Results Will Follow—His Assailant Arrested—Great Excitement in Paris.

SHOT BY A REVOLUTIONIST.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—There is great excitement in Paris over the attempt made Saturday to take M. Ferry's life, and a rumor that gained currency that plotters also intended to assassinate M. Goblet. Whether others besides the miscreant now under arrest and his immediate accomplice were concerned in the desperate work has not yet been determined. Detectives, however, are now at work on the case, and there is promise of sensational disclosures.

The attempt to murder M. Ferry was most deliberate. A man named Aubertine, a rabid revolutionist, appeared in the hall of the Chamber of Deputies and requested that Ferry be informed that a gentleman desired to speak to him. The ex-Premier responded, and at his appearance the would-be murderer drew a revolver and fired three times at him. One of the bullets struck M. Ferry in the chest and another on the right side near the lowest rib. The wounds, however, were not serious, as M. Ferry was able to proceed to a hospital assisted by friends.

After the shooting a series of quarrels also arose between the members of the Chamber of Deputies, who had flocked into the lobbies during the excitement. The disputes were mainly waged between the Moderates and the Radicals, and were heightened by the charge made in a loud voice by M. Rouvier that the Radicals had by their course provoked weak-minded persons to commit deeds of violence. Several scuffles ensued, and in some cases blows were exchanged, but nobody received serious injury.

Officers of the law saved the would-be murderer from violence and hurried him off to prison. He became talkative and informed his guards that he was accompanied by an ally, who had been selected to shoot M. Goblet, but that the fellow's courage failed him, and he ran away before the attack was made upon Ferry. The assassin is about twenty years of age. He says he is a member of a group of twenty Revolutionists; that he and his comrades drew lots as to who should commit the first murder, and that the task of taking Jules Ferry's life fell to him. He is not penitent—in fact, he seems to regret that he failed in his murderous undertaking.

M. Ferry passed a feverish night but was able to rise yesterday morning. The fever continued during the day, and it was feared that his wounds would be aggravated. A bulletin issued last evening said that his condition was satisfactory, but a midnight bulletin says that it is less favorable. He received thousands of cards and letters yesterday, and Senators and Deputies of all parties have called at his residence and signed the register.

Aubertine, the would-be assassin, was examined by the juge d'instruction yesterday. He declared that he was an anti-Revolutionist. He said he was sorry that he had not killed M. Ferry, and expressed the hope that others be more successful. Aubertine promised to reveal the names of his accomplices—of whom he says he has nineteen—on Tuesday if the gang does not attempt to assassinate some of the members of the Rouvier Cabinet before that day.

Aubertine is a man of 33 years, short in stature, with gray hair. He was recognized by several journalists as having given them ridiculous pamphlets. A number of copies of the Ferryists' paper, La Republique Francaise, were found, annotated and marked, in Aubertine's garret in the Palais Royal, where he lived with an elderly woman who sun's her fortune in his numerous schemes to make money. Aubertine's violent, whimsical temper drove his wife to seek a divorce. On one occasion he tried to kill her. He has traveled through Germany, England and Belgium, and has been imprisoned for blackmailing. He is an educated man, and has published a number of school books, including a French thesaurus. He also invented several machines, whose failure reduced him to deep poverty. His landlady says that his misfortunes maddened him, and that he is a dangerous lunatic.

Aubertine is the author of various pamphlets and the inventor of several machines, the failure of which has reduced him to deep poverty, embittered his life and brought on occasional attacks of insane exultation of mind. Radical organs declare that the man is "a crank," as political assassination is held to be inexcusable by Radicals. The Journal des Debats and the Republique Francaise charges the "demagogue press" with inciting Aubertine, and they demand a new press law to modify the act of 1881.

The shooting may be reasonably considered a natural result of the extreme bitterness of factional strife that has prevailed during the time that President Carnot has endeavored to construct a Government. The selection of M. Falliores to form a Ministry and his retention of many of the members of the Rouvier Cabinet have blasted the hopes of the subordinate wire-pullers and driven them to despair. These men had pinned their faith upon the appointment of M. Clemenceau, either as Premier or having an important influence over the new Government, but Republican unity exploded when the Cabinet making began. The Radicals only wanted two out of the ten portfolios and even these had been denied them. M. Clemenceau combined the Republicans to elect M. Carnot, but the moment Carnot was installed in the Elysee the influence of M. Ferry became all potent in Paris and the Radicals were thrust aside.

The Moderates insist that Henri Rochefort and his apostles are responsible for the deed of the fanatic who assailed Ferry, and that while revolutionary sentiments are disseminated the life of every Conservative statesman—Falliores, Goblet, Floquet, Rouvier and others, and even President Sadi-Carnot—is imperiled. It is probable the Government will cause Rochefort to be prosecuted.

M. Falliores went to the Elysee yesterday and informed President Carnot that he had found it impossible to form a Cabinet on the basis of a concentration of the Republican groups, and had therefore abandoned the attempt. M. Lockroy and several other statesmen to whom M. Falliores made overtures declined to take office.

The President then charged Senator Tirard with the task of forming a Cabinet. M. Lockroy again refused to join, and M. Tirard's colleagues decided that it would be impossible to form a Ministry without the assistance of the Radical Left. M. Tirard will therefore abandon the task. The impression prevails that M. Floquet will be summoned to form a Cabinet.

A Disastrous Voyage.

Renew Her Youth.

Mrs. Phœbe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness; and am able to do my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain." What May Be Looked For in Congress.

PROGRAMME FOR THIS WEEK.

Nominations to Take Up the Time of the Senate; Discussion of Rules That of the House—Senate Committee Chairmanships.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Senate is expected to formally elect its committees today, thus ratifying the work which the Republicans have already performed in caucus and which the Democrats will have accomplished before the body is called to order. Little besides the introduction of bills is likely to occur during the remainder of the week in the open sessions of the Senate, which are likely to be short ones. The President has before him 305 messages nominating postmasters alone, all of whom have been appointed during the recess and are already in office. Other recess nominations sufficient to bring the number up to about 600 are expected during the week. Daily secret sessions are likely to occur for the purpose of reading and referring these, and it is possible that some of the Cabinet nominations already sent to the Senate, but not yet laid before that body, may be reported for action before the end of the week. All the important committees will hold meetings during the week for the purpose of organization and of surveying the work before them.

Short sittings and long adjournments may be expected in the House of Representatives this week. It is possible that a day may be set apart for the introduction of bills, but several prominent members are known to be opposed to a continuance of this practice, and their objections may result in deferring the opportunity until after the announcement of the committees. The Speaker will appoint the Committee on Rules within a day or two, and a recess for two days will probably be taken in order to allow that committee an opportunity to consider and report upon the various propositions that have already been introduced looking to amendments of the former rules. Mr. McCreary's resolution requiring the general appropriation bills to be reported to the House by the committees within sixty days after their appointment, during the long session, will probably be speedily and favorably reported by the Committee on Rules, and the discussion following the report may consume the time of the House for a day or two.

THE SENATE COMMITTEES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Republican and Democratic Senatorial caucus committees held a conference Saturday and agreed upon the composition of the various standing committees of the Senate. The following are the chairmen of the principal committees:

Appropriations, Mr. Allison, Iowa; Finance, Mr. Morrill, Vermont; Foreign Relations, Mr. Sherman, Ohio; Judiciary, Mr. Edmunds, Vermont; Military Affairs, Mr. Hawley, Connecticut; Naval Affairs, Mr. Cameron, Pennsylvania; Indian Affairs, Mr. Dawes, Massachusetts; Post-offices and Post Roads, Mr. Sawyer, Wisconsin; Patents, Mr. Teller, Colorado; Pensions, Mr. Davis, Minnesota; Railroads, Mr. Sabin, Minnesota; Commerce, Mr. Frye, Maine; Agriculture, Mr. Palmer, Michigan; Public Buildings and Grounds, Mr. Stanford, California; Public Lands, Mr. Plumb, Kansas; Territories, Mr. Platt, Connecticut; Privileges and Elections, Mr. Hoar, Massachusetts; Inter-State Commerce, Mr. Cullom, Illinois; Claims, Mr. Spooner, Wisconsin; Fisheries, Mr. Stockbridge, Michigan; Rules, Mr. Aldrich, Rhode Island; Library, Mr. Evarts, New York; Manufactures, Mr. Stewart, Nevada; Education and Labor, Mr. Blair, New Hampshire; District of Columbia, Mr. Ingalls, Kansas; Census, Mr. Hale, Maine; Civil Service and Retrenchments, Mr. Chace, Rhode Island; Expenses of the Civil Service, Mr. Quay, Pennsylvania; Expenditure of Public Money, Mr. Farwell, Illinois; Improvement of the Mississippi River, Mr. Paddock, Nebraska; Transportation Routes to the Seaboard, Mr. Mitchell, Oregon; Revision of Laws, Mr. Wilson, Iowa; Centennial of the Constitution, Mr. Hiscock, New York; Indian Tribes, Mr. Chandler, New Hampshire.

THE TALLY-SHEET FORGERIES.

Prominent Ohioans Said to Be Indicted for the Columbus Frauds of 1885.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—The special grand jury impaneled to investigate the Columbus tally-sheet forgeries of 1885 reported Saturday evening. The sheriff refused to announce the names of those against whom indictments are returned until they could be arrested, but it is understood that they are Allen O. Meyers and Thomas J. Cogan, ex-members of the Legislature; J. G. Blackburn, a lawyer of Cincinnati; Fred Steube, a night watchman at the vault where the returns were kept; R. B. Montgomery, ex-State's Attorney, and his brother, Dr. C. R. Montgomery. Steube was arrested and gave bonds. All the parties are Democrats.

Importing Potatoes.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Scotch potatoes, with some consignments of the same vegetable from Ireland, are being imported in considerable quantities. This is the first time that this has been the case for five years, although off and on there have been small cargoes brought over and disposed of in this city. The present movement of the Scotch product began about a month ago, and since then potatoes have been arriving at the rate of 30,000 sacks a week. The stock brought over is of better quality than the native product this year.

A Plot Frustrated.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—It has just been made public that certain prisoners in the county jail have been plotting for some months past to effect their escape. An examination of their cells recently led to the discovery that one of them had managed to get possession of a revolver, and that another had secured several saws and a couple of knives. The officials say that the implements were smuggled into the building by attorneys.

An Actress' House Burned.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The residence of S. M. Berry, on Kings highway at Sheepshead Bay, was burned Saturday morning. Loss, $30,000. Mrs. Berry, who is better known by her stage name of Bessie Darling, and her daughter, were alone in the house and barely escaped with their lives. They left behind $1,700 in money and $7,000 worth of diamonds.

Breweries Closed.

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec.—Two breweries, valued at $200,000, were closed Saturday by the authorities. The owners, who have no desire to contest the matter in the courts, have asked for a reasonable time in which to close out their business, and it is believed that the Prohibitionists will favor granting the request.

Pittsburgh's Temperance Revival.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 12.—The eleventh anniversary of the great temperance revival in this city, when over 25,000 people signed the pledge, was celebrated by Francis Murphy, the evangelist, at the Bijou Theater Sunday night. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic ever held here.

A Triple Alliance.

Unhappily for the wretched victim of their assaults, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness are faithful allies. When one of these foes attack the system the other two speedily follow in its wake, and successively make their onslaught. Successively, but not successfully, if Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used to repel the onset. The Bitters as easily exterpates these monsters as St. George is depicted in the act of doing to the dragon in the steel vignette upon the bottles which contain the medicine. Their flight, like their advance, is nearly simultaneous. Their mutuality destroyed, they precipitately retreat, leaving health master of the position and strongly entrenched by the Bitters. This grand fortifier is also a reliable bulwark against the insidious assaults of malarial disease, and stops the approach of rheumatism. It, moreover, relieves nervous complaints, and imparts vigor to the weak.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by Prentice & Evenson O. P

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Preparation for the Next Annual Convention at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 12.—A number of delegates from New England and the West to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor which meets here today have arrived. The convention will be the most important meeting ever held in Baltimore in the interests of workingmen. The federation has a large representation in Maryland, and the visiting members will be cordially received and entertained. The Executive Council of the federation is composed of George Edmonston, Treasurer of the Carpenters' Brotherhood; P. J. McGuire, Secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; James W. Smith, Vice-President of the Tailors' National Union; Samuel Gompers, President of the Cigar-makers' International Union; and George Harris, President of the National Federation of Miners and Mine Laborers. The basis of representation is as follows: From National or International unions of less than 4,000 members, 1 delegate; 4,000 and less than 8,000, 2 delegates; (between 8,000 and 16,000, 3 delegates; over 16,000 and less than 32,000, 4 delegates, and so on, and from each local or district trades union not connected with the federation, 1 delegate. One hundred delegates are expected, and these will represent a constituency of over 600,000.

Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers, Boiler-makers' Union, Beer-Brewers' and Drivers' National Union, Bottle-Blowers' League, Brush-makers' National Union, Carriage and Wagon-Makers' National Union, Amalgamated Association of Engineers and Brotherhood of Stationary Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, American Flint-Glass Workers' Union, United Hatters of North America, Horseshoers' National Union, Musicians' National League, Pattern-makers' National League, Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators, Piano-makers' National Union, National Associations of Railroad Brakemen, Conductors and Switchmen, Custom Tailors' National Union, Textile-Workers' Progressive Union of North America, Umbrella, Pipe and Cane Workers Union of North America, and the Wood-Carvers' National Union.

TRAIN ROBBERY.

Three Masked Men Rifle an Express Car in Arkansas, Secure $40,000 and Escape.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 12.—A north-bound passenger train on the St. Louis, Arkansas & Texas railroad was boarded Saturday night by three masked men at Genoa, a small station ten miles from Texarkana. They mounted the engine and compelled the engineer to stop at the dense woods, two miles from the station, and then forced him to go before and break in the express-car door. The messenger was overpowered and compelled to unlock his safes, from which, it is stated, the robbers secured $40,000 and escaped into the forest without disturbing the passengers or mail. Conductor Nichols made several attempts to get out and protect the express, but the robbers' Winchesters soon drove him back. The Governor has offered $200 reward and the express company $500 each for the capture of the men. The whole country surrounding the scene has been alive with posses scouting for the robbers, and the country being rough and broken and sparsely settled, it seems impossible for them to get away. It was one of the boldest acts of train robbery ever done in the State, and the perpetrators may be as cunning as they are desperate, but the authorities are determined, and will be almost sure to catch them.

COLLIERS KILLED.

A Car Filled with Miners Hurled to the Bottom of a Deep Pennsylvania Coal Shaft—Three Instantly Killed, Two Fatally and Six Seriously Injured.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 12.—A report has just reached here of a frightful accident at Luzerneborough, four miles from here. The carriage at Waddell's shaft used for hoisting coal was about to be lowered into the pit, 300 feet deep. Upon it were ten miners. When within 100 feet of the bottom the carriage became stationary and the rope began to slacken. Before the engineer could take up the slack, the carriage suddenly descended with great force, throwing four of the men off, who fell to the bottom of the pit. James, John and Hugh Monaghan were horribly mangled and instantly killed. William Boyd and John Bright were picked up fatally injured. The legs and arms of each were broken in several places and they were badly crushed. The six others were seriously injured and badly shaken up, but their injuries are not considered fatal.

Demanding Land from the Union Pacific.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Secretary Lamar has rendered a decision that deprives the Union Pacific Railroad Company of about 200,000 acres of land southwest of Denver, Col. The land has been patented to the railroad, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office is directed to demand the land, and, in case of refusal, to request the Attorney-General to bring suit to recover the land.

JUSTICE IN FRANCE.

The Network of Law Which Surrounds a French Citizen.

President Dupin, the greatest French juris-consult of the century, once said: "If I were accused of having carried off the towers of Notre Dame in my pockets I would run away."

Could you believe, for instance, asks Mr. Max O'Rell in the Liverpool Courier, that upon the least suspicion a French magistrate may order, on his own responsibility—a responsibility which no one has a right to question—a search or an arrest in any private house? He may issue such a warrant upon any presumption uncorroborated upon oath. When, in France, a man is accused, say, for instance, of stealing a watch, he is brought before the commissary of police, who invariably says to him: "You are charged with stealing a watch. The best thing you can do is to make a full confession, and the judge will be lenient with you." If he is guilty, and knows that the case is clear against him, he immediately makes a clean breast of it, and, as a rule, is quickly and leniently dealt with. But if he is innocent, or, if guilty, he thinks he can get out of the scrape, he of course answers: "You are mistaken, I am not guilty," and his troubles begin. He is sent to prison, and the following day is taken before the examining judge, called judge d' instruction, not in public, but in a private room. There this magistrate says to him point blank: "You say you are not guilty, of course; if we were to listen to all of you none would be guilty. Now, enough of that nonsense. You are charged with stealing a watch. Prove that you are innocent."

Now, if the prisoner is guilty it must be difficult for him to prove that he is innocent; but for that matter, if he is innocent it may be just as difficult. If the first comer were to accuse me of having stolen his umbrella a few days ago I could more easily say that I was innocent than to prove it. "So you persist in your denial!" says the examining judge to the French prisoner. "Very well, I will send you back to your prison. I hope that next time I send for you you will have reflected, and discovered that the best way to serve your own interests is to make a full confession."

The prisoner goes back to jail, and the magistrate begins to get up the case against him. If the accusation is of a serious character the man is placed au secret, that is to say, that not only he can not communicate with his friends, much less see them, but he can not even see his counsel or receive any legal advice. How long is he to remain in preliminary imprisonment before being sent to a tribunal? This entirely depends on the good pleasure of the examining magistrate, who is allowed by the law to keep him a year under examination. If at the end of the year the case is not sent for trial the prisoner is discharged.

I should, however, hasten to add that, as a rule, for an ordinary theft or offense that does not require long investigations, the accused undergoes only from two to six months' preliminary imprisonment before he is brought before his judges. During that time he is brought once or twice a month to the Palais de Justice, to be asked by the judge if "he still persists in his denial." These visits to the examining judge are most dreaded by French prisoners, especially in Paris. They sometimes have six, eight hours to wait for their turn, in a little dungeon six feet square, where they have neither food nor air. It is nothing short of torture this inquisitional examination in private. When in the evening the prisoner sees his cell again it must look to him like Paradise compared to the hole he had to creep into during the day. At last one day he receives intimation that his trial will take place.

But now mark well where the system is wrong. The prosecuting magistrates called the magistrature debout (because they prosecute standing), and the judging magistrates, called the magistrature assise (because they try cases in a sitting position), belong to the same set. Indeed, the prosecuting magistrates are in time promoted to be sitting magistrates. The prosecution is not, therefore, independent as the defense is. The prisoner's case is settled before he appears in court, for both prosecuting and sitting magistrates have held a consultation over it, and the speech of the prosecution is merely delivered for form's sake.

If the proceedings of the Police Correctionelle are dull and prosy those of the court of assizes offer a different sight. We are now in a perfect theater. Nothing is wanting but stage-boxes and the division of the seats into stalls and galleries. The prisoner himself often forgets his awful position, and thinks of the public who gaze at him. He feels like a sort of hero, the actor in whom the interest of the grand spectacular drama concentrates. Ladies of the highest society flock to the court, duly provided with scent bottles and extra pocket handkerchiefs. If, as is the case in France nine times out of ten, a woman is the cause of the prisoner's terrible position, they expect sensational scenes that would draw at the Port St. Martin Theater, and they are seldom disappointed. At last a little bell is rung. All are silent and breathless. The accused, accompanied by two gendarmes, enters the court and sits on a high bench, well in view of every body. Then come the three judges, with their scarlet gowns, followed by the advocate-general or public prosecutor. All take their seats solemnly. The performance is about to begin.

A French jury will always award "extenuating circumstances" to a prisoner who may be supposed to have committed murder under the influence of love, jealousy, revenge or despair—love especially. They will not uncommonly acquit a man, if his character is otherwise irreproachable, who has killed an unfaithful wife or her lover. Besides, the idea of capital punishment is abhorrent to the French, and the jury will always try to find extenuating circumstances to avoid sending a fellow-creature to the guillotine. And even when their consciences will not allow them to find these extenuating circumstances, they fondly cling to the hope that the President of the Republic will commute the sentence of death to one of penal servitude for life.

In America prisoners are constantly visited in their cells by people who cheer them up and provide them with work when they come out. In France the only visit they receive is from the chaplain, who exhorts them to pray to St. Joseph.

A Mule Frightened to Death.

In Sumter County, Ga., a gentleman and lady were riding along a county road, going to church in a buggy drawn by a mule. A large piece of blue paper was rolling down the road ahead of them, stirred by a stiff breeze; when about twenty feet from the paper a whirlwind caught it, rattled it around furiously and, lifting it up, carried it one hundred or more feet in the air and out of the way. The mule whirled, but turned his head toward the paper, watched it the while, trembling, fell upon his knees and then turned over on his side and expired.

What Am I To Do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquors but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure, try Green's August Flower, it cost but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by Sold by Prentice & Evenson O P.

MUSIC-BOXES, like watches, will last a life-time if they are good, and are taken care of. Many who have them object to their every-day use, but according to a jewelers' journal, they should be used every day, just as a watch is wound and used.

THE first dance which could be described as a waltz was introduced to the public in an opera at Vienna in 1787 by one Vicent Martiny Solar (commonly called Marcini lo Spagnuolo), who was a popular composer at the court of Joseph II.

THANKSGIVING DAY was first celebrated by the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth in 1621. The harvest had been abundant, and although more than half of the band had died, the remainder were firm in the hope of establishing a new home. The Indian chief Massasoit participated in the festivities, which lasted three days. Since then Thanksgiving Day has been a feast celebrated throughout the United States.

Bismarck Is Ill.

The attack speedily passed off, but his physician advises rest and abstention from business. A Berlin dispatch says Prince Bismarck is suffering from indigestion and nervous headache. Count Herbert Bismarck has arrived at Friedrichsruhe.

Will Chicago Win Again?

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The opinion is now growing that the Democratic convention will also go to Chicago. The National Committee will meet here some time early in January. At that time New York will be the greatest opponent of Chicago. The New-Yorkers are already preparing for a big fight, but the opinion is that Chicago will win again.

Aiding the Striking Miners.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—The building trades council of this city, which has a membership of about 24,000, has decided to take up the boycott in defense of the striking miners of the anthracite regions.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches snuffs, powders, syringes, astringents or any similar application, because they are all irritating do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

WHY WORK FOR ANOTHER, or on small salary? Why continue working on a worn-out farm? Why try to secure a living from such high-priced or heavily mortgaged farms? Why work on rented land? Why not start for yourself? Why not secure at once some of the low-priced but very fertile and well located lands adjacent to railroads now to be obtained by those going to Northern Dakota and Minnesota, where you can make a larger net profit per acre than on the high priced or worn-out land you now occupy? Why not go and look the situation over and see for yourself, or at least obtain further information, which will be sent free, if you will Address C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn.

Arguments in the Rich Divorce Case Now Being Made Before Judge Bennett.

In the Stevens Assault Case the Defendant Pleads Guilty.

As the Gazette goes to press this afternoon Ogden H. Fethers is making the argument for the plaintiff in the Rich divorce case.

Mr. Winan's argument for the defendant is still to be made.

Among the documents read this afternoon were several of the amatory letters that were used in testimony in the original trial. These were put in as part answer to the claim of the defense that the defendant was not guilty of the offense charged against her. Judge Bennett ruled, however, that it was not within the province of the court to decide upon the merits of the original case in hearing arguments on a motion to show cause.

W. C. Stevens appeared before the court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, preferred against him by E. W. Lowell. He was fined one hundred dollars and costs, the entire amount being $228.29. The original complaint was assault with intent to kill but was withdrawn on condition that the defendant withdraw his plea of insanity.

—People still continue to admire the elegant display of jewelry in the Milwaukee street show window of A. F. Hall & Co. Their store is filled with the newest and most artistic styles of goods in this line.

—A pleasant social was given at Odd Fellows hall on Saturday evening, attended by a large number of young ladies and gentlemen. Anderson's orchestra furnished the music for the dance.

—"Madame Cordelia", who built a training barn opposite Holt's European hotel and prepared to spend the winter rehearsing new acts for Burr Robbins' circus, has suddenly departed and the barn has been pulled down.

—Quite a large delegation from the Milton Rebecca lodge visited America lodge No. 26, Daughters of Rebecca, this city, on Saturday evening at Odd Fellows hall. They had a pleasant visit which did not terminate until midnight.

—The funeral of the late Wm. McCaffrey was held at St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock this morning. The services were conducted by the Very Rev. Father McGinnity, and were listened to by a large congregation of sympathizing friends of the bereaved family. The remains were taken to the Catholic cemetery for burial.

—The funeral of Mrs. Patrick Dohaney was held at St. Patrick's church yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. Father McGinnity, whose remarks were fittingly appropriate. Mrs. Dohaney had been a great sufferer, but bore her sufferings bravely. A large funeral procession followed the remains to the Catholic cemetery.

—Another full house greeted the Goodrich company at Lappin's new opera house on Saturday evening. The company being compelled to make an early train the performance was hurried through, and owing to this fact did not give very good satisfaction. At the matinee in the afternoon the watch was drawn by Charley Lepper, of the fifth ward, and in the evening, Mr. Chas. Gibson, an employee of the Gazette Printing Co., held the lucky ticket. The company play this week at Dubuque.

—Beloit Free Press:—An eight year old son of Mr. Fred Nesbit threw a stone through a window of a coach on the 12:37 train going north on the Northwestern road to-day. The city marshal was informed of the fact and found the "kid" who owned up to the charge, and his parents agreed to settle with the railroad company.—Northwestern conductors complain that the children at school No. 2 stone the trains, and agent Howell will complain to the school board of the matter.

—Katherine Freeman a lame, grayhaired old woman with a very black eye was on trial before Judge Patterson this afternoon for assault and battery. The complainant was Frank Stockman, a stalwart young man living in Milton. He claimed to have been hit with a stone thrown by the defendant. The black eye he denied knowing anything about, although the defense charged him with having taken a leading part in its devolopment.

—Engineer J. Frank Williams, of the water works, has had a series of five handsome pictures taken—one showing the reservoir and a large portion of the fourth ward taken from the top of the chimney at the station; one showing the west side of the river looking north from the same point; one showing the east side of the river looking north from the same point, with the river in the foreground; one showing the reservoir while being paved, and one showing the pumping house before the scaffolding was removed from the chimney. The views are well taken and show the city and works to good advantage.

—One-half of the duplex steam pump, weighing about seven thousand pounds, which wrecked one of Milo Curtis' heavy wagons on Friday evening, while being removed from the St. Paul freight house to the water works pumping house, lay in Academy street over Sunday. This pump complete will weigh in the neighborhood of seven tons. It was the intention of Mr. Williams to have this pump put up at once in order to let water into the mains by the first of January, but in falling from the wagon some parts of the machinery was broken which will require time to replace. The other pump has not yet been shipped.

—The funeral of Mrs. Edward Francis, who died at her home on Washington street first ward, on Saturday, was held at St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock this morning. The deceased was seventy-five years of age. Her aged husband survives her. Mr. Hugh Joyce, who through old acquaintance and friendship for the family he had become much endeared to, has done much to brighten their declining years. The funeral of the late Wm. McCaffery was held at St Patrick's church this morning at the same hour, and was largely attended. Rev. Father McGinnity conducted the services, and the friends and relatives were greatly moved by the impressive and comforting manner in which he referred to each. The interments were at the Catholic cemetery.

PLENTY OF ADVICE.

The articles in the Art Interchange for the current month will be found very timely. Christmas gifts without number may be made by following the directions in its columns. Among the illustrations are several sketches for panels, decorative designs for postal card and telegram holders, designs for square fruit plates, designs for card painting entitled, "The Christmas Carol," and "A Merry Christmas," and a figure sketch, "Gather Around the Christmas Tree."

Hints are given on decorative work of all kinds. The Interchange has become a paper of great value both to artists and to art students, and would make a very acceptable Christmas present itself.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE.

James Sutherland & Sons have made greater preparations for the Christmas trade this year than ever. Holiday editions of the works of various standard authors, Christmas cards in endless variety, valuable art prints, fancy papetrie, and charming conceits of all kinds in plush and stamped leather, crowd one-another for room on the counters and in the cases.

In such profusion, something can be found to suit the most exacting, and the Christmas shopper who calls on Mr. Sutherland can hardly go amiss.

VERY TEMPTING.

Stearns & Baker's windows continue to attract attention. The display of Christmas goods is something that can hardly be surpassed in the city, while the prices for the dainty trifles in plush, satin, stamped leather or metal are remarkably low. And shoppers in search of Christmas gifts realize it thoroughly, too.

THE REBECCAS.

At a regular meeting of America Lodge No. 26, Daughters of Rebecca, at Odd Fellows' hall Saturday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

N. G.—Mrs. S. B. Kenyon.
V. G.—Mrs. B. F. Blanchard.
R. S.—Mrs. Nellie Poilay.
F. S.—B. F. Blanchard.
Treas.—Mrs. Eliza Rowland.

PERSONAL.

—Frank Hazelton, of Rockford, spent Sunday in the city.

—Mel. T. Riker left for Florida at noon to-day, going by way of New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. McKey have returned home from the east and will spend the winter with Mrs. Harriet McKey, South Main street.

—Miss Anna Cummings, Washington street, has gone to Chicago, at which place she will perfect herself in the art of retouching photographs. The best wishes of many friends accompany her.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 27 degrees above zero. Light snow with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 30 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 31 and 50 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 20 degrees above zero. Cloudy with west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 26 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago he register was 38 and 45 degrees above zero.

IN THE CHURCHES.

Venerable Bishop Wells Holds Confirmation Services at Christ Church.

Rev. Mr. Wilder Talks on Public Sentiment and the Liquor Traffic.

Bishop Wells' congregation at Christ church yesterday morning was a large one. It included many outside of Dr. Spalding's regular charge, for the bishop has many warm friends and admirers in all of the Janesville churches.

Before the confirmation service the bishop delived an able and practical sermon on the duties of those in the church. He dwelt especially on the proper training of children. The church, he said, was founded by God, not by man, and its requirements are God's requirements

He spoke with great gratification of Dr. Spalding's presence in the parish. "All of you who know the history of the Wisconsin diocese," he said, "cannot fail to appreciate the faithful work your pastor has done. I call upon you now to support his efforts. Let every exertion be made that the movement so auspiciously begun may be carried on to its full fruitage. Gladden the hearts of your pastor and gladden the hearts of your bishop by the zeal with which you co-operate with the work of the Lord in this parish."

The union temperance meeting at the Congregational church was well attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. S. P. Wilder, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Hodge, the Rev. W. F. Brown and the Rev. Thomas Walker. Mr. Wilder's sermon had for its subject the "Responsibility of Good Men for the Drink Habit." The saloons—against which must be charged three-fourths of the evil of the present day—only existed. Mr. Wilder said, by the sufferance of public sentiment. For their existence the good men of the community were directly responsible as the moulding of this sentiment lay entirely in their hands. We bewail the condition of things under which the saloons are allowed to flourish, said the speaker, we regret that "the depraved sentiment of the lower classes makes the saloon an evil which only time can do away with," and resign ourselves to patient waiting until this "public sentiment" shall come around; but if we wait until then we shall wait until the saloon is triumphant through the land. Public sentiment is not the sentiment of the lower classes, it is the sentiment of the higher, and is fully up to the declared and enforced sentiment of the best men of the day. A few men control matters everywhere. If public sentiment in temperance matters is not what it should be the blame is on a comparatively few of the best men in the community for they may either have the control themselves or they may turn it over into the hands of others.

Mr. Wilder concluded by an especial plea to the men of the church, on whom, he said, rested much of the responsibility for the temperance question's disposal.

At Court Street church the Rev. Mr. Peake devoted the evening service to the beginning of a series of lectures on "The Women of the Bible." The topic discussed was "Mother Eve—the Tempted and Fallen Woman." He gave a concise statement of the creation of the first woman, refusing to enter into a discussion of any of the so-called "advanced ideas" of the creation. He said:

"After reading all that has been written upon the subject, I find that I can more readily believe that man was made of dust by the divine hand than that he is a developed monkey. I can more readily believe that Eve was builded up from the rib of Adam than that she was a developed kangaroo or opossum."

He held that the bible tangled the equality of man and woman, but not their identity. The woman is a "helpmeet," but not a "help-mate." A helpmeet is a fit help, a suitable help, just such a help as man needs, and without which he would not be, he could not be, what he is. Woman is not another man, nor is man a duplicate of woman. She is more than a physical variation; a woman is woman in heart, mind and soul. She is not made to fill the same offices and hold the same relations in life as man. Man has his work and woman has her's. It is his to lead and her's to follow in some things; it is her's to lead and his to follow in other things. It is his to protect and her's to comfort. It is his to support and her's to endure. Putting all together, who dare say that man is superior to woman, or that woman is superior to man.

"I am suspicious," said Mr. Peake, "of the woman suffrage movement. Not that I would withhold any good thing from woman. I do not believe that the ballot in her hand would be a good thing. I think it means social anarchy, a weakening of the marriage tie, which is already too weak, and weaker with women than men. It is a significant fact that after Eve the name of another woman of any importance is not mentioned for nearly two thousand years. Why? Because the family is the unit of society, and the man represents the family. He is its head and as its head and as such represents it, and will do so even though women vote.

"I am suspicious of this movement, too, because the prime movers in the so-called reform hate the bible and the orthodox creeds. Some of them say the Bible stands in the way of woman's emancipation. Many of their speeches are only tirades against all that we have been taught to love and cherish. Some of them ignore the claims of love and the demands of duty, and join hands with Herr Most in saying that flesh and blood ought to be common property. Others say with socialists that marriage is only a matter of convenience and desire. This is not reform, this is not advancement, but disorder and ruin." It seems severe to say this when so many good women are in the movement under the delusion that they are reformers, that society is all out of joint and will fall to pieces unless something is done. It seems ungallant, but gallantry cuts no figure when vital issues move us. It may not be expedient, but expedience has no place in the pulpit."

A DECIDED "BOOM."

J. Frank Williams Placed in Charge of All of Turner, Clarke & Rawson's Water Plants.

Mr. J. Frank Williams, the engineer in charge of the construction of the Janesville water works for Messrs. Turner, Clarke & Rawson, of Boston, has just received a highly complimentary letter from his principals, conveying to Mr. Williams evidence that his labors in the interest of his company are appreciated. The letter informs him that he has been appointed general superintendent of the water works owned and operated by Messrs. Turner, Clarke & Rawson, being seven different plants, as follows:

At Janesville, Wisconsin.
At Racine, Wisconsin.
At Helena, Montana.
At Minneapolis, Kansas.
At Plattsmouth, Nebraska.
At Salem, Ohio.
At Mount Desert, Maine

It is understood that Mr. Williams will remain in Janesville until the works here are put in operation. It is not yet decided where his headquarters will be located.

Mr. Williams has made many friends during his six months' residence in Janesville, and all will be pleased with his promotion, and with the fact that he will in the future be a regular visitor to the Bower City. He has accomplished a good work in this city, one that his company is well pleased with, his promotion being its direct fruit, as he entered the employ of the company last spring a stranger to all, and did his work among strangers. Mr. Williams is yet a young man, but takes rank with the best engineers in the country, and besides all that he is a perfect gentleman in every sense of the word. The Gazette will tack the horse shoe of good luck to his grip.

BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

The Gazette is pleased to note an increase of life and activity in the Business Men's Association. Twenty new members have been added to the list during the past month and the outlook is encouraging for the winter. The object of this association is to help the city, and this is the only object. Why every business man in the city should not be actively interested in a question of such vital importance is still an unsolved conundrum.

Any man of ordinary business capacity will admit that what benefits a city, either directly or indirectly, benefits every man in it. The differences of opinion that always exist where men in various lines of business meet for discussion, are no argument against organization, and united effort for a common purpose. Many a man has received new ideas and increased ambition from a lively discussion. The prime object should never be lost sight of, and business courtesy always yields gracefully to the will of the majority. If there is any common ground on which the business men of Janesville can meet and work it should be found in the organization of the Business Men's Association. Other cities in all parts of the country work successfully through this channel and it is gratifying to note that Janesville has already accomplished something along this line. Let every business man realize that he has a common interest in this common cause and lend the organization his presence and influence to aid in every good enterprise for the cities welfare.

THE DEAD EDITOR.

An editor calmly laid down to die,
At the sound of the wind's shrill blast,
For he knew by the sky,
With the clouds piled high,
That the snow had come at last.

Like a hero he faced the springtime,
With its sonnets to "buds" and "showers,"
And he smiled at the loads
Of meaningless odes
To the harvest moon and summer flowers.

And even the autumn so cheerless,
Brought nought that was much to fear,
Just a ton of poor verses
On "funerals" and hearses,
And the falling of leaves so sear."

But the mind that had met so bravely,
All the verses on "sunshine" and "woe,"
Succumbed at last,
At the winter's blast,
With its prospects for poems on "snow."

KNITTING.

As Discussed at the Business Men's Association Rooms on Saturday Evening.

Janesville Proposes to Knit.—The Lewis Manufactory to Come Here.

The warp and woof of business enterprise, when centered in a common interest, is as fine in texture and fabric as are the goods manufactured by the Lewis Knitting Works. This fact was demonstrated in the meeting at the rooms of the Business Men's Association last Saturday evening, where a goodly number of our business men assembled to take definite action regarding an enterprise to aid the welfare of the city. The meeting was not only harmonious, but enthusiastic throughout, not a discouraging word was uttered, and after a close investigation of the financial and moral standing of the Lewis Bros., it was decided unanimously that the knitting works of Portage must be secured for Janesville.

As stated by Mr. C. B. Conrad, a donation is not solicited. Simply a time loan at a low rate of interest, with less than an ordinary business hazard.

Mr. J. M. Bostwick, after a careful examination of the samples exhibited, said that they were superior to any goods in the market and that by all means the industry must be secured to Janesville. Mr. Bostwick's name appears at the head of the list of those who propose to assist in a practical way.

Mr. Hiram Merrill expressed a lively interest in the enterprise, and said that Janesville must not let the opportunity pass.

Mr. O. H. Fethers and Capt. Pliny Norcross spoke earnestly on the question and before the meeting adjourned about one third of the amount was pledged.

A committee consisting of Messrs. J. M. Bostwick, C. W. Jackman and Capt. Pliny Norcross was appointed to complete the work without delay, and there is every reason to hope that the enterprise will succeed. The village of Clinton has offered all that is asked of Janesville. Can we not do as well.

Twenty-nine cities in this state have city school superintendents who are not also principals of high schools. The salaries attached to these positions, with two or three exceptions, are quite small —under $500, indicating, of course, that the incumbents only give a portion of their time to school supervision.

Wolves continue to kill sheep in the western part of Racine county and in the eastern part of Walworth county. Farmers state that fully thirty have been killed since the first day of November. Several hunters have been out scouring the country, and succeeded in bagging one wolf. There is talk of a grand wolf hunt, which all the expert hunters in Racine will be invited to join.

A young man from Green Bay went to Depere to have some fun with the boys. When he went to the depot to buy a return ticket, he put his hand in his pocket for a dollar and pulled out an old hen's egg which his friends had placed there. The egg broke and the young fellow walked home.

Eau Claire Press: Henry B. Weinstock, who has a large farm in the town of Clear Creek, was one of the severest sufferers from chinch bugs the past season of whom we have heard. He had 60 acres in winter wheat and 15 acres of spring wheat, from which he did not reap a kernel. The bugs took the spring wheat before the stalk was six inches high. He had thirteen acres of corn, which the bugs destroyed so completely that he gathered only 300 baskets. He had thirty-five acres in oats, but thirteen acres of them were so injured that he cut only twenty-two, from which he threshed only 450 bushels. Besides the destruction of the growing crop, his land was badly damaged by the growth of fire-weed wherever the crop was destroyed.
